Lisa Rigoni Development Manager

Lisa Rigoni came to Midwest Mission at the end of August 2021 as Communications Manager. In May of 2022, the role of Development Manager was created to more fully express her passion for listening to others and sharing stories in authentic relationships. She is excited to share her heart for Jesus and Midwest Mission through speaking opportunities at churches, businesses, various conferences and events, and she loves one-on-one and small group dynamics. Lisa leads Midwest Mission campus tours and coordinates speaking engagements.

"One of the many blessings I have as Development Manager is to talk to folks about giving opportunities. Each gift matters – whether financial, through prayer or volunteer time. I have found that true joy comes from heartfelt giving, and I have the privilege of sharing the beautiful impact of that joy," Lisa said. "The stories we hear every day from our volunteers, partner organizations, financial donors and importantly, the recipients of Midwest Mission's outreach, can only be orchestrated by God! There is so much he can do when we partner with him first. I get to invite people to experience all of it first-hand!"

Lisa's career includes extensive work in public/media relations, marketing, event planning, development, speaking and entrepreneurial endeavors.
